

Nancy Drew: Join the Storm Chasers

The Trail of the Twister mystery adventure game launch is almost here. The storm has been gathering for many months and now we are just weeks away. Pre-orders have begun, and if you act quickly and reserve yours before June 16th, you'll receive a 'Special Edition' of the game which includes extra awards, outtakes, and even more Pa Pennies!

Nancy's next case will put her right in the path of treacherous tornadoes, sinister storms, and a crafty criminal. To survive she'll need to work closely with her team, knowing that one of her closest allies could become a lethal threat. It's time to gear up and meet the Canute Storm Chasing team:

Scott Varnell - Scott is the leader of the Canute Storm Chasers and professor at the University. Although he might be in charge of the team, he's quick to blame others for the troubles they're having instead of taking responsibility. Is he trying to divert attention from something he has done?

Debbie Kircum - Debbie is eager, passionate, and dedicated to her work. As Scott's right hand, she handles the majority of the day to day operations. At times it seems like she does most of the work but receives the least amount of credit, could she be sabotaging the team to show them how important she really is?

Chase Relerford - As a meteorology undergrad student spending his first season out in the field, Chase is a remarkably good mechanic. He is capable of fixing everything from computers to cars, and as far as he's concerned, "there's no saboteur, things just get broke and have to be fixed." If he's so good with machines, why doesn't he notice the sabotage, or is he just covering for his own crimes?

Frosty Harlow - Toby "Frosty Harlow is the team's media expert who earned his nickname from a close encounter with a dangerous storm. The nick name unfortunately went to his head and continues to whet his appetite for fame and fortune. Would he go so far as to sell out his own team to make his financial dreams come true?

Pa - Pa runs the Ma & Pa Convenience Store and local oddity museum. He has a lot of experience with Oklahoma weather and thinks of the researchers as naive city-folk. But out here in 'the sticks,' Ma & Pa's is the only place for a team to get supplies and gas. Would Pa stoop to sabotage to keep the storm-chasing clientele coming back for more?

You, as Nancy Drew, complete the team, and the chase is about to begin. Get ready to be blown away by Nancy's next thrilling adventure, Nancy Drew: Trail of the Twister. (PC/Mac)

There's no need to try and predict the weather; check the Trail of the Twister release forecast below to see when the storms are expected to strike.
